

A FOCUSED FAMILY

The Lord commanded me to teach you these laws and teachings, so that you may obey them in the land He gives you. So that all your life, you, your children and your grandchildren will always worship the Lord, obey His commandments and enjoy long life.

Deuteronomy 6: 1-2

Introducing Ruth Morles de Waldmann: At Global One80 we are always open to join the vision of leaders who are already in the mission field. Through Pastor Johnny Waldmann, Ruth's husband, we have learned of the ministry she is developing in Venezuela, Colombia and other countries. We are honored to be able to empower leaders who have a passion for biblical counseling. This month we have asked her to give us a brief overview of her ministry and her family.

Our Ministry: At present, the Lord has allowed me to offer psychological counseling, with special care, to pastoral couples and leaders, mainly from our churches in Venezuela and also outside the country. I am also providing psychological counseling to women, promoting self-worth, reestablishment of family and couple relationships, as well as parenting. On a weekly basis, I lead a Women's Group with an emphasis on Discipleship. In addition, once a week I attend, together with my husband, a Cell Group, focusing on strengthening faith and commitment to service in the Church and in the community.

Our Family: Johnny and I have been blessed with three beautiful daughters, Joizeth, Lynette and Jenyret; they and their husbands follow and serve the Lord closely. Joizeth and David Ferrer live in Orlando, Florida. Together they have created the Hope For Venezuela Foundation, benefiting pastoral families, leaders and in general families and individuals.

Lynette and Herman Nfagnan live in Dublin, Ireland. They have been ministering at All Nations Church for 6 years. Herman is collaborating as a cameraman and Lynette is in charge of the Social Media and Life Groups Ministry. Jenyret, Samuel Granja and their baby, Zohet Josué, live in Medellín, Colombia. Both are musicians and lead the Worship Ministry at El Encuentro con Dios Church.
